

U.S. Troops OUT NOW

Sat., March 19, the second anniversary of the U.S. invasion of Iraq, is a world day of protest. A broad coalition of antiwar, community, solidarity, and labor organizations will march to Central Park in NYC to demand an immediate and unconditional withdrawal of U.S. troops from Iraq.

Help to build a broad national mobilization to resist Bush's new war budget of $80-to-$100 billion. We need money for schools, health care and human needs — not endless war!

These challenges facing the anti-war & social justice movements merit attention:

- Support for GIs who are resisting illegal and criminal orders
- Fight any attempt to reinstate the draft
- Affirm the right of Iraqis to resist the occupation of their country
- Denounce the ongoing occupations in Afghanistan and Haiti
- Hands Off Cuba, Venezuela, Iran, Korea, Sudan, Colombia, Philippines and all countries the U.S. threatens
- Support the Palestinian struggle against occupation & their right to return
- Defend civil liberties and immigrant rights

Forge the widest possible unity among all anti-war & social justice forces in this country.
